PME Hale update

My brothers and sisters, our future has once again been sabotaged by ZOG. PME Hale's latest appeal was denied in a very corrupt way. As i have told many his appeal was going in a very positive direction. The Denver court apporved his court dates and it was moving forward in a positive way, only to be decimated by the Chicago court. Rev Hale went through the Denver court via a change of venue, it was approved the very first attempt through them. Then the Chicago federal court interjected, overrided the Denver court and tried to deny it. In which Rev Hale's attorney had to present an oral argument for his defense. On march 7th his lawyer appeared before the 7th circuit court only to find out he wasnt allowed to present any arguments in his defense (pretty much a gag order) and was only allowed to answer a few questions they posed. One of which was about Ricky Birdsong, that had NOTHING to do with the legal case they were presenting. After deliberation, of course they issued a denial of appeal.

Besides this, 3 weeks before this took place no one had heard from PME Hale. Around the same time as the trial everyone started getting their letters back saying they were "not approved". This coming now with the recent decision are tied together. They did not want Rev Hale to be able to write to our people and confess the truths of recent actions committed by ZOG. I am sure the ban will not last long as the media has already spoke about it.

Now what can we do? First off we need to calm our anger. I know many like me feel deep anger. Lashing out will only do more harm then good. Their is no message we can send to make ZOG reverse their decision. However we must keep what Rev Hale worked so hard for alive and prospering. Many of us within the TCM are working hard at other angles we can help Rev Hale with to relaese him. If you are willing to help you may send donations to his brother Mark or contact me at 3098309485.

Do not get discouraged my bretheren for as long as our creed still exists we have not been defeated and the day will come when our holy flag rises above all of this and may we together win this RACIAL HOLY WAR!

The Struggle

You may not know it but if you are white then you are part of it. It stems from the daily task of merely living in a world that has become almost entirely foreign to us and our racial soul.

We are trained from a very young age to keep our heads down and be obedient, accept the things that we know to be wrong for the sake of tolerance and peace. Most of us whites are products of the working class, plague of government school, poor nutrition, hedonism, usury, guilt and tolerance. All of these things (and more) are set up as a trap for our racial souls. It's a never ending cycle of excess and distraction that we can never get a break from. Someone is always talking to us; always telling us how to feel. How to feel pretty much translates as "feel like crap about everything", "Put yourself in extreme debt so you have no choice but to be a wage slave.". They don't want nor can they have us whites feeling satisfied and happy. Then we run the risk of independent thought and pesky original ideas. They wouldn't be able to manipulate our minds into buying their useless Chinese lead filled BPA junk that we don't need. Their TV's and advertisements and endless chatter are everywhere. It's inescapable now. They talk to you and tell you what to feel almost every second of the day and if you don't believe me pay attention the next time you are out. There are TV's in gas stations, restaurants, malls, grocers and shops. We are rarely left room for a bit of silence with ourselves. Observe the way the masses become half aware and zone out when a TV comes on. It's like having those awesome sunglasses from "They Live".

We are marketed poison in the form of fluoride, GMO's and sugar to our children. Our families separate as both men and women head off to meaningless and unsatisfying labor, and our kids are bused into little prisons and taught obedience and acceptance of mediocrity. Parents rarely know their children and rarely have true and meaningful interaction with their young. Children are basically abandoned to the age of parental absenteeism and the electronic age of Gameboys, cell phones, and Ipads. All of this prevents us from passing on our traditions and values and we grow further and further from understanding ourselves and our people.

We feed ourselves and our offspring with whatever is cheap and convenient when cheap and convenient means low quality, low nutrition, chemically laden and genetically altered. The tap water is pure poison that you can smell in the form of chlorine. It also contains fluoride and remnants of urine and feces and the remnants of psychotropic drugs all of which serve to alter and malign our body chemistry and dull our senses. At our core we are disillusioned and when we do manage to feel they will be more than willing to write a prescription of some drug to us.

Not every jew is a zionist but every zionist is a jew. They mean to control and enslave the world and destroy their greatest threat to their oligarchy, the White Race. This can be readily confirmed if one dares to do an internet search on the teachings of the Talmud. They are taught from a very young age that we are 'goyim' to them, which translates to 'cattle'. Their religious doctrine tells them that they can rape children under three, kill non-jews indiscriminately, lie to us, steal from us. The world is meant to be theirs and we were put here to be their slaves. They also believe that their 'Savior' cannot return until the entire world is enslaved and in their control. So, with the Central Banks and EU and all the above mentioned it sure looks like they are achieving that goal. Rev. Matt Hale (who had not only his civil liberties ignored but was captured and imprisoned under highly suspicious circumstances) mentioned in his speech: "Jewish Occult Murders - How and why Jews have sacrificed non-jewish children as part of their religion", that we are instinctively aware of them because we have been stealthily attacked by them throughout history.

The powers that be inform us that these distractions and problems are normal and simply a sign of progress. That we aren't being poisoned or being brainwashed or genocided. Educated and well researched people understand the writing on the wall. The scariest part of it all is that most whites accept this as the new normal with an unbelievably self righteous denial. This is the very core of the struggle we face as White people. The fear of Creativity is strong with them. They know that if it were to be put in the hands of the majority of European peoples that a new renaissance would inevitably come. It seems that their main goal is a new dark age laden with death, fear, mistrust, addiction, and subscription to superstitious death cults. While we understand a natural order to things and accept, based solely on facts and science, that we clearly are the finest, the Jews are the antithesis to us. Our polar opposites and ever eternal enemy. We are not meant to live among each other and it is clear. But, is it all doom and gloom and despair? For some it may be but for Creators? No. We understand that the answer is to regain complete and total control over our destinies. How does one go about that in this present age? The first step I suppose comes from commandment 4 of The Sixteen Commandments which states, "Destroy and banish all Jewish thought and influence from our society. Work hard to bring about a White world as soon as possible." The most dangerous foothold these vermin have is within the minds of each and every one of us.

The bigger picture can seem like a pretty large task given the above mentioned issues we are dealing with. However, if we take it on from an internal perspective it is now very manageable. When it becomes personal we are able to find in ourselves the places where we are being destroyed and set out to eliminate those vices little by little. Whether it's through taking better care of our bodies, spending a little more time with our families, watching a little less TV or even educating ourselves; these little personal changes in everyone can spread to big changes overall. The essence of a Creator is to create, always. We should challenge ourselves to achieve greatness for our own intrinsic rewards. . Now we are telling them through our actions that we subscribe to a higher order than what they place on us. Here comes your hope and change. Let the revolution of values begin.

cannon fodder for the frag

I have been in this struggle since I was 16-17 years old, I am 33 now. I have seen many things in these years and one of the most devastating things I have seen, is a selfish act of retaliation. With the recent denial of Rev Hale's appeal I fear the same will happen and I implore any who have this thought to NOT act upon it. Let us look at the past selfish acts of violence, without naming any given situation we can see it only leads people away from our cause. And if anyone is interested in our church because of such acts, BEWARE! I and my family have been victimized by ZOG because of such things. When the Lefkow killings happened (that we had nothing to do with PROVEN) the counter-terrorism task force used that as an excuse to raid my fathers home. In a very disgruntal way they abused their power and violated mans constitutional rights. A man who is a highly decorated Vietnam vet who suffers from multiple diseases and has had over 54 surgeries because a chemical they dumped on him while he was serving for the army! Still these men did what they did. Any situation you can name, an individual goes out and commits a random act of violence targeting random people, what does it lead to. A few deaths of non-whites and the death of a racially awakened white. The outcome? Multiple arrests and harassment of innocent people, future legislations against our first amendment.

Now, I am a far from a pacifist. But I am a realist. I see a growing rise against the tide, I stand fast, as you should my bretheren. Smile in the face of adversity as you see us growing. Do not turn the other cheek, simply use it for ammunition until the day they fear comes! A man alone is nothing without a purpose and a plan, a plan and purpose is nothing without MEN! We need all to do their part to spread our truth to the people.

I have been a number many years of my life, and trust me, as much as you claim honor to it, it is flawed. I spent over 5 years behind maximum security walls, including Stateville (which is 99% black) covered in WP tattoos. I have been stabbed multiple times and fought and succeeded in many endeavors within. I am here to tell you that is for not! No one knows nor understands the trails you may face. It is not the path. The path of a creator is this, it is simple, to spread creativity! We must reach as many as we can with our message, simple. Of course being a realist I understand not all of our kin will adhere to our faith as some need a false sense of something greater than themselves. However ALL should be touched by our creed in some way. A brother in Seattle said something to me last night that I have heard before and I will use it again. If common sense is common why is it so rare? A funny analogy.

Now in closing my brothers going back to the title, we need all of you to reach as many as possible not to be a number, a statistic, or the cause of new laws but a pioneer of truth!

Klassen's Teachings: REVOLUTIONARY LEADERSHIP

Leadership, like fame, is an elusive and fleeting quantity. Some people have leadership thrust upon them, others train for it and struggle hard to obtain it, others are born to it. In this discourse we are interested how we, the COTC can obtain more and better leaders in our movement. We need thousands of leaders and millions of followers.

Leaders come in different shapes and categories. Some are financial leaders, some are best fitted to be political leaders, some are inspired to be religious leaders, some for organizational leadership. The categories are endless.

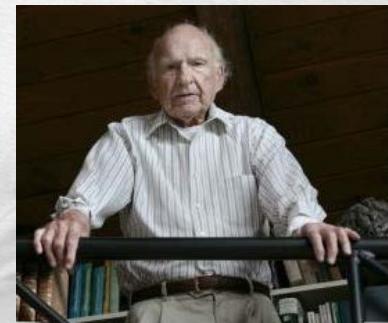

At this stage in our Creativity movement we are interested in every category of leadership, but basically we are interested in real revolutionary leadership, because, at this time in history we are in the middle of a major revolution, a complete and drastic revolution of values, a revolution so far reaching that it is undoubtedly the most significant event in 6000 years of civilized history.

Yes, whether we like it or not, we are today engulfed in a major worldwide revolution that constitutes a major turning point in the history of the human race, and the outcome will either be a catastrophe of gigantic proportions or it will usher in a new age of greatness and well-being for the human race. Not only will the future course of the human race be drastically affected, but the global environment as well. It will depend on which side wins. If the evil forces led by the Jews are victorious, future humanity is doomed to tens of thousands of years of slavery, misery and bestiality, a situation from which there is no reversal and from which it can never recover. If, on the other hand, the White Race wins, led by the program and vision of the Church of the Creator, a bright and beautiful new world will emerge. It will be a world of grandeur and beauty, a world of continuing advancement, of cultural, economic and genetic well-being. The outcome, my dear White Racial Comrades, depends completely on how hard you struggle to bring about victory.

James MacGregor Burns has written a book on Leadership, one in which he covers a dozen different types of leadership – political, executive, financial, religious and a variety of others. In Chapter 8, he examines Revolutionary Leadership, the topical subject we are herewith involved, because, believe me, what we are involved in this latter part of the twentieth century is no parlor game. We are not playing musical chairs or ordinary politics. The revolution we have been hurled in to is the most cataclysmic in the history of mankind, and the outcome is so final it can never be reversed. Either our future progeny will be part of a hellish mongrelized mass of enslaved zombies, or they will have the great good fortune to be living in a Whiter and Brighter world that will be a wonder to behold.

Here is how Burns describes a revolution. “In its broadest meaning revolution is a complete and pervasive transformation of an entire social system. It means the birth of a radical new ideology; the rise of a movement bent on transforming society on the basis of that ideology; overthrow of the established government; creation of a new political system; reconstruction of the economy, education, communications, law, medicine, and the confirmation and deification of a new leadership.... Rare is the revolutionary leader who helps initiate a revolution, lasts through the whole revolutionary cycle of struggle, victory, and consolidation of power, and directs the process of social transformation.”

If we apply the above definition to the Creativity revolution to which we are committed, it fits our every category. We make no bones about it. We are and we intend to implement a radical new ideology and religion:

We intend to build a bright new world that will be exclusively inhabited by Nature’s Finest – the White Race. We intend to completely destroy and exterminate Jewish dominance of our government, of our finances and of our culture. We intend to wipe out the malignant Jew spawned religion of Christianity that has so plagued the mind and soul of the White Race for nearly two thousand years and replace it with a healthy and progressive racial religion structured for the best interests and needs of the White Race and exclusively for the White Race. We plan the creation of a new political system based on the Leadership Principle, not the present much-touted Jewish “democracy”; the reconstruction of the economy; of our educational system in which race and eugenics are paramount. We intend to revolutionize our system of law, medicine (Salubrious Living), communications and our whole ecological system of keeping this planet a cleaner and greener world, a world our future progeny can live in with the utmost of pride, enjoyment and health.

Burns further states that “Of all the stages in a transforming revolution, the birth of the idea or vision that impels the revolution and its adoption by a decisive number of persons are probably the most crucial steps towards the transformation.” This is very true. For any revolution, movement or religion to come into being, it first must have a solid and comprehensive creed and program. This we have in Creativity, and do we ever! It is the most fully-structured, the most comprehensively detailed and clearly articulated creed and program any religion or movement has ever been given. It has been detailed to cover every phase and vital need relevant to the survival and well-being of the White Race. It is spelled out in at least twelve books and no stone has been left unturned to clearly state where we stand on every issue vital to our great race. Furthermore, it is based on two of the strongest emotional and motivational movers in history – it is based on race and religion.

There have been any number of revolutions in history gone by, most of them minor, some of major Impact. Burns reviews four major revolutions, their leaders and their impact. We can learn something from each.

1. Among these certainly Martin Luther (1483-1546) ranks high, although like practically every other revolution the impact of his “Reformation” did not bode well for the White Race per se. Nevertheless, the impact of what he did changed the course of history, although not necessarily for the better.

It is interesting to note that Burns gives us a very low rating of Luther’s leadership abilities. He says, “Few leaders would seem so ill suited for revolutionary leadership as Martin Luther, for he acted without party and organization; his strength lay in the collective strength of a following he hardly knew.” He points out that Luther for most of his life (he died at age 63) was a poor monk with no political base and an uncertain ecclesiastical one, had no military protection and was in frequent peril for his life and freedom. He was neither a trained philosopher nor a learned theologian. Yet he created a revolution that echoes into our time. Burns notes, however that he had an absolute fanatical conviction that carried almost everything before it, and he had the good fortune of living in an era ripe for ideological change.

2. The French Revolution. In his treatise “A Real Case Against the Jews,” Marcus Eli Ravage, himself a Jew, frankly states (p. 288 W.M.B.) “We (the Jews) have been at the bottom of not merely the latest Great War, but nearly all your wars, not only the Russian but of nearly every other major revolution in your history.” Further on (p. 289) he states clearly that not only did they have a major hand in Luther’s Protestant revolution, but “the three principal revolutions in modern times – the French, the American and the Russian.” Ravage was boasting, but he was not lying. The French Revolution was a carefully planned and staged Jewish revolution. It was one of those revolutions that devoured its own instigators and they did not live to see the fruits of their labors. Some of these leaders were Goy, some (most) were Jews. A few of the more prominent leaders who were victims of the revolution they had helped to instigate were Reoeillon, Brissot, Danton, Marat and dozens of others, including thousands of lesser caliber.

The real leaders and instigators of the French revolution were the Jacobins, a Jewish organization which later became the forerunner of the Communist Party in Russia. The real objective of the Jacobins was to behead and destroy the French nobility. “Always kill the best first,” is the basic Jewish principle. This they did with a vengeance as they guillotined tens of thousands of those of the best in French leadership. The Napoleonic Wars that followed in the next twenty years killed other hundreds of thousands of the best France had to offer. The French nation has never recovered from this drastic bloodletting instigated by the Jewish Jacobins, starting with the French Revolution.

3 and 4. The Russian Revolution and the Chinese Revolution. In his book, Burns treats the leadership and these two revolutions in considerable detail. However, I will not take the space, and rather make short shrift of them. Both were Communist revolutions based on Karl Marx's deceptive Jewish theories. The Russian revolution was aided and abetted in large part by American Jewish Capitalists such as Jacob Schiff of Kuehn, Loeb and Co. He donated 20 million dollars financing and training 3000 Jewish cutthroats under the tutelage of Leon Trotsky in Eastside New York. The Chinese revolution in large part was also aided and abetted by the American government itself when they sent George Marshall (of the Marshall Plan fame) over to China in 1949 to help Mao Tse-tung "negotiate" Chiang Kai-shek out of power and have Mao and his communist band of criminals take over.

There are two parallel features about the Russian and the Chinese revolutions, besides them being instigated by Jewish communism and the American government. One aspect is that Lenin, a prominent leader of the Russian Revolution, lived long enough to reap the fruits of his labors to rule the take-over for a few years, (until he went insane and died in 1924), and Mao on the other hand ruled China for many years. The other common denominator is that In both revolutions the Jews succeeded beyond their wildest dreams their maxim of "kill the best first." in Russia it is estimated that somewhere between 20 and 30 million White Russians were murdered early in the takeover, the same White Russians who had brought civilization and government to Russia some one thousand years earlier. In China it is estimated that at least 60 million of Mao's enemies were murdered during his bloody regime.

There is one major revolution of modern times that author Burns fails to list among the four mentioned above, and that is Adolf Hitler's National Socialist revolution. This is rather strange, since it had an impact (at the time) that was equal to any in history. Perhaps because it was not as bloody as the French, the Russian and the Chinese Revolutions that Burns decided to omit it. Secondly, it was the only revolution that was not Jew led and inspired, and in contrast to the bloody revolutions was an extremely constructive revolution for the German people while it lasted. It was of course, as everyone knows, crushed by the worldwide Jewish powers, for to have left it to flourish it would soon have meant the end of Jewish financial and tyrannical governmental powers throughout the rest of the world. Nevertheless it was a major revolution of the first magnitude and one from which we, the White people can learn much. And we have learned much from this heroic breakthrough against Jewish tyranny and treachery. Here are a few of the lessons we must take to heart.

1. Rather than Nationalism as preached and practiced by the Nazis, we must instead unite all the White peoples of the world under one umbrella, as did Hitler with the Germans.

2. Never again must White Men kill White Men, whether it be under the auspices of Nationalism, religion, language or any other divisive pretext. We must recognize our real enemies – the Jews and the mud races, then make common cause with all the White nations of the world and concentrate our political and military firepower against the real enemy.

3. In order to unite the White peoples of the world we must realize our genetic values and dump overboard the Jewish Christian mind boggler that has plagued the White Race for nearly two thousand years and brought it to the edge of suicide.
4. We must also unite the White people of the world under one language, namely Latin, and eliminate the three greatest divisional tools with which the Jews have manipulated us for too long, namely nationality, religion and language differences.

Creativity has the answer. But time is running out on us. We must realize that the most deadly revolution of all time is now upon us and this time “killing the best” means killing or mongrelizing all of the White peoples on this Planet Earth – a goal the Jews are pursuing with a fanatic vengeance. So the commitment we must make is clear and imperative. We must organize the total White Race. We must train our leaders. We must have a prepared plan of action when the showdown comes - and it is coming in this decade.

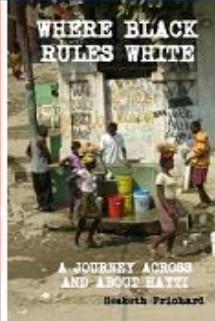

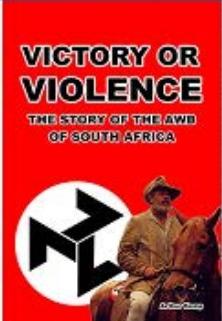

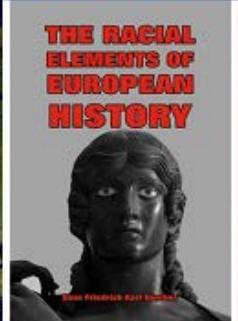

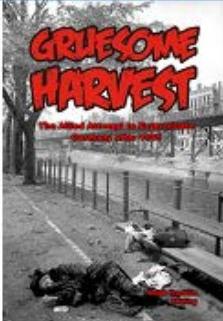

The need is overwhelming and the choice is clear. Either through cowardliness and negligence we accept the death of Nature’s Finest, or we fight back and take over and inhabit all of Planet Earth. There is no choice in between. So make up your mind my dear White Racial Comrade, and spring into action. Creativity has the whole program laid out for you. Join with us now and save our future progeny from the fiendish hell the Jews have planned for us.
